NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1889.

THE WESTERN CAMPAIGN.

THE REPUBLICANS OF CINCINNATI HARD AT WORK -GREMANS FOR GARFIELD-GOING HOME TO

VOTE-SENATOR CONKLING'S SPEECH. The drift of political sentiment in Cincinnati is toward the Republican party; the Germans earnestly favoring the Republican candidates. Senator Conkling recently made a telling speech in the city concerning the Southern trade. The Government clerks from Ohio and Indiana are returning home to vote. Senator Blaine addressed a large Republican meeting at Sandusky, Ohio, HOPEFUL REPUBLICAN OUTLOOK. CONFIDENCE OF VICTORY IN OHIO AND INDIANA.

INY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. Washington, Oct. 5.-Horace Walbridge, of presses the opinion that both Ohio and Indiana will go Republican. He says that the tariff question has had a great influence in Indiana, a great many Democratic manufacturers having determined to vote the Republican tieset. Dispatches received here to-day from Republican headquarters say that as the end of the canvass approaches and the Republicans take their final survey of the ground, they are very hopeful. They think that the presence of General Grant with the Boys in Blue, and of prominent Republican speakers in the closing days of the campaign, will have great effect. The fact, too, that in the Connecticut town elections there have been Republican gains is taken as a very hopeful indication by the Republicans for its effect in Indiana and Ohio as well as for its influence in Conpecticut itself. The Democrats, however, are endeavoring to make light of the Connecticut vote and say that it has no significance. Mr. McPherson, secretary of the Kenublican Congressional Committee, has just returned from Pentsylvania. He says that the Democratic claim that they are able-to-carry that State is absord, as it is certain to give Garfield a majority of from 30,000 to 50,000. Sensible Democrats in Pennsylvania, he says, have long since abandoned any such claims.

Most of the Indiana and Olao eterks started for the West te-day, having obtained leave of absence from the Departments for ten days and having se-tured low-rate treacts. A great many of even the Ohio Clerks will go to Indianapolis to attend the meeting of the Boys in Bine. The division of the Boys in Bine of the District of Columbia has been instructed to meet at the Dennison House, Indian-upolis, on October 7.

SENATOR BLAINE IN SANDUSKY.

WE ADDRESSES THE LARGEST MEETING HELD SINCE

THE WAS.

THE TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE. SANDUSKY, Ohio, Oct. 5 .- Sepator Blaine adfiressed an immense mass-meeting in the fair grounds near this city to-day. It was the largest meeting held in Sandusky since the war, and was composed of delegations from all the surrounding counties. The Republicans feel confident of carrying the old Congressional District of Governor Foster, of which this county forms a part.

THE CAMPAIGN IN OHIO.

"OCAL ISSUES IN CINCINNATI-THE SOUTHERN TRADE-SENATOR CONKLING'S SPEECH-BOUND ING BANNING IN THE BACK FOR CONGRESS-ESTIMATES OF THE OCTOBER VOTE.

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT OF THE TRIBUSE.] CINCINNATI, Oct. 2 .- Hamilton County, comprising this big, dirty city, with its bigger and cleaner suburbs, is a region peculiar and apart in Ohio politics. It contains a large floating population and a large German population-the latter very independent, given to stampeding in one direction or another, and much petted by the politicians of both parties. People in Hamilton County think they settle State elections, and that the rest of the inhabitants of Ohio might as well save themselves the trouble of a campaign. It is usually true that as Hamilton County goes so goes the State; but there have been exceptions to the rule which the politicians here are prone to forget, Nevertheless, so important is a victory in this populous metropolis that the party workers may be ed for their lack of interest in the rest of the State and for their absorption in the affairs of their own vicinage. Each party believes that if it carries Hamilton County it carries Ohio, and buckles down to the local work with a zeal born of this conviction. A correspondent cannot learn much here about the general drift of the canvass throughout the State, or much of its incidents and arguments; but he can learn a deal about the polities of a city that is more closely tought than any other city in the country. He will be told about the important movements and declarations of Tom, Dick and Harry, men of local note, of whom he probably never heard before; of schemes for organizing this or that peculiar element of voters; of plots for fraud, and counterplots to defeat them; of trades and manusyres for securing county and city offices, of this fellow who has sold out to the enemy, and that fellow who wants to be bought; of importations of Kentucky voters, and of plans for eir detection; of the big negro vote always faithful to the Republican party, and the big German vote about which there is great anxiety every year; of the personal habits and campaign methods of the candidates; and of many other things much discussed here, but of little interest elsewhere except as they point to results.

CHEERING REPUBLICAN PROSPECTS. Without going into all these details of a close city campaign, I may say that the general outlook in Hamilton County favors the Republicans. Their notable victory last year puts them in a good position for the present contest. They have been the winning party of late-a fact which inclines the drifting vote toward them. The Germans, who like John Sherman and believe in hard money, and who helped elect Foster last year, find themselves by their recent action in the Republican ranks, and see no reason for changing ground. The attempt to prejudice them against Major Townsend, the Republican candidate for Secretary of State, has failed disgracefully. A German newspaper which I took up this meraing shows that Townsend is so far from being an ultra Prohibitionist that when he last ran for the Legislature in Atliens County, the Prohibitionists put up a candidate and tried to defeat hun. There are a few changes among German politicians who have not got what they expected from the Republican party. but every man of them conspicuously displays the grievances of a sorehead. An amusing example is that of Editor Jeup, of the Abendpost, who wrote : long letter tately to Chairman Nash, of the State Committee, complaining that his services had not been properly rewarded. He says he helped elect a Republican sheriff last year, and the sheriff's advertising, worth $5,000, was given to another Ger man paper, and not to him. If he is not promptly compensated for the loss of the advertising, he says, as will turn his paper over to the Democrats and take the stump for Hancock. Nash sent the letter to Cappeller, the chairman of the County Committee, and Cappeller gives it to the Volk-blatt where I read it this morning. It is the most veriant and at the same time impudent attempt to blackmail a political committee I have seen for many a day. All German Cincinnati is laughing at it to-day. Outside the German element there have been but two conspicuous Republican desertionsone the President of the Board of Aldermen, who the Republicans say has been bought, and the other a one-legged Irishman of some talent and influence To offset these changes the Republicans point to six prominent Democrats who have come over on the business question, and to a long list of others not so conspicuous. Then they believe they are going to get a large silent vote from the Democrats-men who don't want to be badgered by their former party associates, but who have made up their minds that the continuance of business prosperity can to-day thirty delegates were present. A. J. Clements, only be secured by a protective tariff, a sound currency, and security against the reopening of the questions settled by the war.

THE SOUTHERN TRADE QUESTION. While the prospect is good for Republican success in this ofttimes pivotal county, it must not be thought that the contest is a one-sided one. The two Congressional Districts contained in the county are being fought by the Democrats with a great deal more vigor than they displayed in 1879 or 1878. In the 1st they are running Samuel F. Hunt against the present Representative, Benjamin Butterworth. Sam Hunt, as everybody calls him, is a relative of Senator Pendleton, and a clever, amiable, popular young lawyer, who never abuses the opposite party and is personally well liked by everybody. He got into politics at a surprisingly juvenile age, and was President of the Ohio Senate before he could show a beard. Sam is a fine orator. Few men in the West can equal him for an after-dinner speech. He does not take up the Southern question in his canvass, or blackguard Ohio, who has just returned from that State, ex- Garfield, or try to make out that a revenue tariff means a protective tariff, but he has invented a little issue of his own-for local application. He tells his Cincinnati audiences that it is bud business policy for them to be Republicans. The city has just spent a great deal of money and contracted a heavy debt to build a railway to Chattanooga, and by means of that road is reaching out for an increased Southern trade. Now, says Mr. Hunt, if we give a Republican majority, the South will take offence at us, and go with its trade to St. Louis, Louisville and Baltimore, which are Democratic cities. This is an ingenious attempt to play upon the pocket-nerve, and at the same time a frank confession of the intolerance of the South. It is not stampeding the Republican merchants of Cincinnati, however. Their politics are not for sale for the price of Southern orders for their goods. Besides, they have no fears that the Tennessecans and Georgians will refuse to come by the shortest line of railroad to the nearest great city to buy their goods because that city is Republican. Senator Conkling in a speech last night at the largest political meeting ever held in Cincinnati, dealt effectively with this question of Southern trade. I quote a paragraph as I find it reported in The Gazetic, because it is as good reading in New-York as in Cincinnati: policy for them to be Republicans. The city has

as in Cincinnati:

Gazelle, because it is as good reading in New-York as in Cincinnati:

Let me say—as I need not say, for they know it—to the business men of Cincinnati that there is no freendship, in trade and no sympathy at a bank. Girat implanae, I sleng to a bank where they can borrow money on the best frims, men from the North and from the Sauth go to the market where they can borrow money on the best frims, men from the North and from the Sauth go to the market where they can buy the best. The Southern trade comes to you over fines from tracks that the energy, the gennes, and the capital of Cincinnati has bid down, not because they are food of you as Romeo was of Juliet [bazeller and applanae], but because where man's treasure is there is his beart. You show me a market where the South can buy and seil more profinably than they can here, and I will show you a market limit they will go to, even if the dust, and sing pealins to the South South. [Great haughter and applanae.]

Those who proceed upon an opposite theory; those who think that by encouraging the policy which now prevails in the South finey will make gain in trade, or profit, will be take that historic colored brother who came along and heart at man preaching, and he thought it was Whitfleid, and be fluing himself down and rolled over and rolled around in the dust, and somework came along and heart at man preaching, and he thought it was Whitfleid, and be fluing himself down and rolled over and rolled around in the dust, and somework came along and heart at man preaching, and he thought "Why," says he, "that is Whitfleid, that is Whitfleid." "Why," says he, "that is Whitfleid, that is whitfleid in the south first place it will make no difference, it has made none, with you!" "Why," says he, "that is Whitfleid, that is not Whitfleid." "Why," says he, "is that sof There I have just solded sond hastied myself for notiong." [Applanae.] I have this to say upon the argument to when it have referred: In the first place it will make no difference, it has made none, with N diversified industries, skilled intor, and the assume to conquer with, beyond any other people of any period or any come. I venture to say now that the leaders of politics in the South are entaged in bringing about and carrying on a condition of taings second only to the Rebellon in its folly and its wrong. [Applianse,] And so far from its being sind to the South, so far from its being sind to the South, so far from its being conservative and wise, to encourage what in one phrase is known as the South South, that will show that those are the real friends of the South who beseech and tings them to break up that supendous foily which we see banded together as Southern Conservation.

BANNING, AND OTHER CAMPAIGN FEATURES. In the 1id Congressional District, ex-Governor Young is a candidate for reelection, and the famous General Banning, who was elected in 1876 by a gang of repeaters and held his sent after his majority was put in jail, is running against him Banoing's strength lies in the fact that he is a good mixer. Nobudy can " set 'em up" for the boys in a beer saloon with a better grace. He assiduously cultivates the lower classes, has plenty of money and spends it freely; and although he lacks th respect of most people whose good opinion is worth having he is unquestionably a formidable caudidate. Governor Young can match him for popularity, however, and with lots of good qualities and the hearty support of the business community, has the better chance of winning.

A rather curious feature of the Cincinnati canvass, which I have not heard explained, is the fact that the Communistic Workingmen's organizations which made a good deal of noise a few years that the Communistic Workingmen's organizations which made a good deal of noise a few years ago, are now supporting the Republican ticket.

Probably the good times have brought about this result. The wild-eyed social reformers, who talked about "bread or blood" when the times were hard, are now carning all the bread they can eat, and can butter it on both sides if they wish.

A word about the general outlook in Ohio, before I return to Indiana. Last year Foster's majority over Ewing was in round numbers 17,060.
Ewing got the bulk of the Greenback Convention.
There was a regular Greenback candidate, Piatt, but his vote was small. This year the Greenbackers will not vose the Democratic ticket, and the loss will be considerable. It will be counterbalanced, however by the votes of three or four thousand hard-money Democrats who supported Foster, but who are back with their party now.
The Democratic scheme for buying votes will produce some results. The Germans in Cleveland and Cincinnati are probably not quite so solicly Republican as they were last year. We shall also lose some of the Bohemians in Cleveland, and some of the miners in the Hocking Valley, where Governor Foster has had to use troops to quell the rictous strikers. Making all reasonable allowance for these losses, however, well-informed Republicans here are encouraged to believe that the Republican State ticket will elected by a fair majority.

The Democratis do not seem to have much ex-State ticket will elected by a fair majority. The Democrats do not seem to have much e pectation of carrying the State. E. V. S.

The Republicans of this city and Brooklyn are much interested in the approaching parade of the Boys in Blue, to take place Monday night. It promises to be an imposing demonstration. Several enthusiastic Republican meetings were held in Brook lyn and in this city last night. The Conference Committees of Tammany and Irving Hall met yesterday, and decided to hold their various nominating Conventions the same days, and to appoint Conference Committees to agree upon the candidates for a union ticket. The registration yesterday was 72,570.

TAMMANY HALES-MR. RELLY AGAIN SUCCESSFUL, The sidewalks about the Westmuster Hotel were crowded yesterday until after 7 o'clock in the even ing with a motley throng of Democratic peli icians and hangers-on, awaiting the result of th conference between the committees of Irving and l'ammany Hall. Too Irving Hall followers arrived bout half-past 2 o'clock and Leld a short conference before Mr. Kelly and his committee arrived. They then all went into an inner room and locked the door, as usual, with two guards on the outside; but they did not, however, succeed in preventing the reporters from gaining knowledge of what had happened. Mr. Kelly firs, asked the Irving Hall Committee men if they had receded from their demand to name the Mayor. This question at once raised a discussion in the Irving Hall Committee, which retired for consultation. On returning they in formed the Controller that they would waive this demand if it became necessary. Mr. Kelly then made a long speech reciting what he had done to purify the Democratic party and drive from it men who had disgraced it. He accused the Irving Hall faction of being too captions, and claimed that the Tammany delegation should be allowed to name the Mayor, but that he was willing to do everything necessary for peace and narmony.

On returning Mr.Costigan suggested that they should call County Conventions of cachgaction on the same say and hear, and have the two Conventions appoint conference committees with full powers, and then adjourn and leave the Conference Committees to agree upon candidates. Mr. Kelly accepted this proposition, but suggested that the otherConvention should meet first. In reply, Mr. Costigan said he was willing, as he "hoped they would agree on a union ticket." To this remark Mr. Kelly replied. "Don't say 'hope,' Mr. Costigan, because I know we shall agree," and this remark was applianced.

the collectors appeared at the engine-houses, they found the men unwilling to pay the assessment. The firemen in several companies spoke very freely about the matter yesterday. They not only considered the assessment an unjust one, but claimed that they were limbe, if they naid, to expulsion under a resolution of the Board passed in 1877 and still in force. It was not learned that any money had been paid. The men are waiting for further developments. The Republican firement say they would prefer to pay the amount of their assessment to the organization to which they belong, because they think that as the Board is composed of two Democrats and one Republican, the Democratic party will get two-thirds of the money collected. The Commissioners say that the men outsit not to pay the assessment, but they have not taken the troubly to inform the men that the collectors are working without their permission. about the matter yesterday. They not only considered

BROOKLYN REPUBLICANS ACTIVE. ADDRESS OF R. STOCKETT MATTHEWS AT THE ACLDEMY OF MUSIC.

The second mass-meeting under the direction of the Republican Campaign Committee of Brook-lyn was held at the Academy of Music last evening. Upon the platform were many of the best known Republicans of Brooklyn, including Corporal Tanner W. W. Goodrich, Albert Dargett, Joseph Reese, the Rev. Dr. Edward Beecher, the Rev. Dr. Jastin D. Fulton and the Rev. Dr. J. O. Peck. The building was througed to the doors. Many seats in the parquet being occupied by ladies, who displayed much enthusiasm. R. Stockett Matthews, of Baltimore, the speaker, was introduced by Albert Dazgett. He was well received introduced by Albert Dargett. He was well received and made a very strong speech, in which he dwelt upon the great importance of the present campaign and paid a high tribute to the worth of General Garffeld. Of General Hancock he said: "I stood a few days ago on the egot where the Democratic candidate was wounded for the Union. Can it be possible that a Domocratic candidate ever shed his blood for the Union! Either the party has been changed and the devils cast out or Hancock has gone astray. If it is shown that the porty is the same, he must be like any other marple found among crows. To refer to his career since the war. After leaving Washington he ran military courts in Maryand, watch were entrievillaged. He then went South to make a reputation for bimself for canathrate for the Presidency. He is on the Domocratic side because he wants to be President. He doors for his election to the people who fought the Government from 1861 to 1845, with unlies in the front and with Labota in the rear. If he is better than his party he cannot ut leave from it, and the party is just the same it ever was. He stands ready to condoct its acts. Way has the party taken up Hancock! Eccause it thinks his bine uniform will cover at the gray coans of the Scuth and the copperages skins left in the North; because he makes an animanale figure head.

BROOKLYN DEMOCRATS IN REVOLT. The Independent Democratic General Committee of Kings County held its first meeting since the Saratoga Convention, at No. 353 Fulton-st., Brooklynlast evening. Chairman Augustus Van Wyck, as chair, man of the delegation to Saratogo, made a report. He declared that on the eve of the Convention the commuttee waited on General Faulkner, the chairman of the and insisted upon recognition; yet when the Convention was called to order by General Faulkner, he deliber man not only refused to put the names of the contesting delegates on the roll but refused them tickets of admission to the floor. He denounced the Convention as a wild mob led by the State Committee. Anthony Barrett, another member of the committee denounced the attempt of the machine politicians, as h termed them, to run the National Democratic Conventien at Cincinnati, where, he said, the Southern dele-gates took things in hand and decided who should be the nomince. He said there had been no Democratic Convention in this State in twenty years, and that the Navention in this State in twenty years, and that the National Convention of the Republican party at Chicago was more of a Democratic Convention than any held in this State in ten years. He would oppose Rapallo and every nomination made by the State Convention called by this State Committee.

Mr. Berriett woved that a committee of three be appointed to consult with ourside organizations on a plan of instead means the machine Democratz. This motion was carried. Afterward Mr. Barrett desired the committee to be embowered to consult with the Republican organization for the same object. After much discussion the motion prevailed, and it was decided to meet Tuesday evening to hear the report of the Conference Committee.

REGISTRATION ON THE FIRST DAY.

Yesterday was the first day of registration, and more than the average number of persons placed election. The record of the day indicates that a very large vote will be poiled. The following table gives the result of the first day's registration in 1879 and 1880, by Assembly Districts. Last year there was no registration on the first day in nine election districts, because the requisite number of inspectors and poll clerks had not been appointed at that time. In 1876 the total registration on the first day was 56,829. A comparison by districts cannot be made with the registration of 1876, gived that the because since then the city has been divided into new districts, and they do not cover the same ground as the old ones. 1880, 1879. | Districts. 1880, 1879.

ELECTIONS IN THREE STATES.

WHAT THE RESULTS SHOW.

HEAVY REPUBLICAN GAINS IN THE CONNECTICUT TOWN FLECTIONS-THE APKANSAS AMENDMENT

DEFEATED-DEMOCRATIC FRAUD IN DELAWARE The returns from all except five towns in Connecticut show that the Republicans have made large and significant gains. Twenty towns have been won from the Democrats. Of the towns heard from, 89 went Republican, 56 Democratic, and 15 were divided tween the two parties. The Arkansas Repudiation amendment was defeated by nearly 4,000 majority, according to the latest returns. Only meagre returns have been received from the local elections in Delaware. The Republicans have carried Wilmington and have elected a majority of the inspectors. The chairman of the Republican County Committee of Wilmington charges the Democrat with repeating.

THE CONNECTICUT VICTORY.

SIGNIFICANT REPUBLICAN GAINS-ALL EXCEPT FIVE TOWNS HEARD FROM-DEMOCRATS LOSE TWENTY NINE TOWNS.

HARTFORD, Conn., Oct. 5 .- Returns have been received by The Courant from 160 towns, all except five of these which held elections on Monday. The Constitutional Amendment is adopted by about 9,000 majority. Eighty-nine towns are Republican, fifty-six Democratic and fifteen divided, Of the missing towns, four were Republican in 1876, and are probably the same now. The result in 1876 was eighty-five towns Democratic, sixty-nine Republican and eleven divided. This shows a Republican gain of twenty towns, and a Democratic less of twenty-nine towns.

New-Haven, Oct. 5,-Of 145 towns heard from 75 have been carried by the Republicans, 55 by the Democrats, and 5 are evenly divided. There are only a few changes from last year. The Democrats claim a gain in the aggregate, Local issues predominated in most of the towns, and the result has little political significance. New-Haven and Bridgeport held no town electrons.

REPEATING IN DELAWARE. IBY TELEGRAPH TO THE VEHBUNG

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 5 .- The Republicans carry Wilmington by 120 majority, and elect eight of the fifteen inspectors. The election efficers were all Democrats, and by repeating and false counting they Republican insports in New Castle County in November, with a fair chance for the State.

LOCAL ELECTIONS IN DELAWARE. WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 5 .- The election for inspectors and assessors (ook plac) throughout the State to-day, and was closely and hotly contested. Very few returns are in, but in Wilmington the Republicans have won by 117 majority on the vote for inspector, while the Democrats win by 18 majority on the vote for assessors. Each party is calming came in the State. The very latest telegrams report Kent County Democratic by about 500 majority. ARKANSAS AMENDMENT DEFEATED. LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 5 .- The vote for the Constitutional Amendment at the recent election amounts to 64,497. There were 132,654 votes cast according to the returns now on file in the office of the ceretary of State. These maures may be slightly changed when the exact number of votes is certified changed water the cate hands and the countries according to the poll books, there being nine countries from which certified essare yet to be received. According to the factings to-day the majority against the amendment is 3.660, and it may reach 4,000. These figures are from the official returns.

The Fishback (or repudiation) Amendment, which has been defeated in Arkansas, provided that the Legislature should not have power to pay either the principal or the interest on the Funding, Railroad Aid Leves bonds issued in 1868 and 1869 by the State. The amendment did not receive Republican support.

MAKING GRAVE CHARGES.

ACCUSED OF ATTEMPTED MURDER. A SPRVANT GIRL, ARRESTED FOR THEFT, CHARGED

WITH THE ATTEMPT TO POISON HER MISTRESS, Jane Rigney, a servant girl, who was arrested recently for stealing jewelry and valuable dresse from her employer, Dr. J. W. Gibbs, of No. 203 West Thirteenth-st., and who confessed to the thefrs, is likely to be tried on the much more serious charge of attempting to poison her mistress. Yesterday Dr. Gibbs called to see the girl at the Jefferson Market Prison, The prisoner asked him as an especial favor to bring her pocketbook from his bouse. The doctor agreed to do so, but before delivering it to her, curiosity led him to inspect its contents. He found a number of morphine pills carefully wrapped in paper. Recently Mrs. Gibbs had suffered from an overdose of some powerful narrotic, but how it had been administered to her was a nivstery.

On finding the nills the doctor at once concluded that the girl, who had been a constant attendant upon his wife, had administered the drag. He told his suspicion to Police Justice Smith, who last evening paid a visit to Mrs. Gibbs, and questioned her as to her illness. She said that she had been rill for about ten days. Jane Rinney had waited upon her, and the tea she had received from her had always tasted strangely. When spoken to about it, Jane explained it away by saying that nothing ever tasted right to sick people. Tea given her by her mother did not have a bad taste.

Louis A. Higgins, a dragglat doing business at Seventh-ave, and Fourteeath-st, was also examined by Justice Smith. He said that he knew the girl Rinney, and that she frequently came to the store for medicines. About two weeks ago she got two dozen pulls of the same soif. The pills contained an eight hot of a grain of morphine each. He also said that he frequently give the girl poisoreus drugs without a prescription, believing that she was sent for them by D. Gibbs.

Last evening Mrs. Gibbs was in a very weak condition, but her ultimate recovery was not doubted. paper. Recently Mrs. Gibbs had suffered from an
